About our CEO

She is the one who will give you her last, but when she needs help, she has too much pride to ask. She is the one who always lends an ear, but when in pain she's too ashamed to show her tears. She is the one who smiles both day and night, but she is now in a battle with Lupus fighting for her life. She is the one who refuses to ever lose focus, but the world doesn't know in November 2011 she was homeless. She is the one to have on your team, but when it comes to support, what she puts out, she doesn't always receive. She is the one who makes every move a calculated step, but still gives the final say to God HE hasn't failed her yet!

Fast facts

- The Lupus Foundation of America estimates that 1.5 million people in the U.S. are affected with some form of Lupus. While there are several different types of Lupus, they all have one major thing in common: They attack the body's immune system. Those with Lupus often suffer from swollen and achy joints, fever, prolonged or extreme fatigue, rashes, light sensitivity, hair loss and other symptoms that make everyday life difficult. The cause is uncertain, and there is currently no cure. Medical treatment for this disease is expensive and exhausting, and many families simply cannot afford it. Today, people all over the country come together to support the cause, help those affected and work towards finding a cure.
